Purchase Area Homemakers To Meet Here

Homemakers from the Purchase Area will convene for the yearly meeting on Thursday, October 23, with the morning session starting at 10:00 at the University School Auditorium and the lunch and afternoon program at the Waterfield Student Union Ballroom, Murray State University.

Special guest speaker for the afternoon session will be Mrs. Adron (Mignon) Doran of Morehead. Her topic will be "Personal Development Through Volunteerism—What to How To." Mrs. Doran is well known throughout this area and the state for her many talents and accomplishments as the wife the president of Morehead State University, said Mrs. Forrest Yates, president of the Purchase Area Extension Homemakers Association who will preside at the meeting.

Sid Jobs of Murray will direct a group of square dancers for special entertainment at the morning session. The area dancers have danced at special events throughout the area and were in charge of the special "September Fest," a special tourist promotion program at Kentucky Dam Village State Park held annually in September.

The Calloway County Chorus, directed by Mrs. James B. Carlin with Mrs. Joe Doran as accompanist, will sing at the afternoon program.

Greetings from the University of Kentucky will be by Miss Marsha Herndon and greetings from the Kentucky Homemakers Education Association will be by Mrs. H. L. Grannis, Jr.

Mrs. Gary Key, Calloway County Homemakers Club president, and Mrs. Barletta Wraether, Calloway Agent in Home Economics, urge the public to attend the events. Seating will be available for the afternoon session for those who do not come for lunch, Mrs. Wraether said.

Police Investigate Theft Of Motorcycle

Murray City Police are investigating the theft of a motorcycle over the weekend, according to department records.

Bob Bastin, 706 College Courts, reported the theft of a 175cc Yamaha motorcycle sometime over the weekend, according to police.

An investigation is continuing into the incident, according to officers.

Mrs. Lowry, Mrs. Prince Named By Local Democrats

Mrs. Betty Lowry and Mrs. Jane Prince have been appointed co-chairwomen of the Democrats United in '75 campaign in Calloway County for the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Their appointments were announced by Dan Bazzell, county campaign chairman, who said he is "especially pleased to have the enthusiasm, know-how and concern for good government they represent at work in behalf of the well-qualified Democratic ticket headed by Gov. Julian Carroll this fall."

Mrs. Lowry and Mrs. Prince were co-chairwomen for Carroll in the county during the primary election campaign in May.

Mrs. Lowry, the treasurer of the Calloway County Democratic Executive Committee, served as a Democratic district chairwoman in the 1971 gubernatorial general election campaign.

Active in civic and church work as well as in politics, she was the first woman to TOBACCO BARN BURNS — A tobacco barn being used by Ralph Caraway, containing about 950 sticks of tobacco burned Monday in the southeastern part of the county. The barn was owned by Mrs. Minnie Craig. The fire was of unknown origin, and the barn was already on the ground when members of the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Unit arrived.

Meeting To Assess Educational Needs Of Area Set Wednesday

A large number of Murray and Calloway County community leaders have been invited to an afternoon meeting Wednesday, Oct. 22, at Murray State University for the purpose of assessing the educational needs of West Kentucky—particularly in career and continuing education.

Sponsored by the University through its Institutional Development Program, the meeting is scheduled for 2 to 4 p. m. in Room 206 of the Conference Center at Roy Stewart Stadium. This is the third of nine such meetings being held by the University across West Kentucky and Tennessee within the next few weeks.

The other meetings are scheduled for Kentucky Dam Village, Gilbertsville, Oct. 23; Paris, Tenn., Oct. 29; Hopkinsville, Nov. 4; Madisonville, Nov. 5; Owensboro, Nov. 6; and Henderson, Nov. 7. The Hopkinsville and Madisonville meetings will be held in cooperation with the community colleges in those cities.

Emphasizing the University's commitment to providing career opportunities and meeting the employment needs of the region, Dr. Ted R. Morford, director of the program, said:

"We hope this meeting will enable us to get to the very grass roots of the career and employment training needs of Murray and Calloway County. We will outline the course offerings we now have as well as those planned for the immediate future. Our objective is to determine whether these programs will fit the employment needs of the years ahead."

"If we learn they do not," he continued, "we will ask these community leaders what programs we should be considering or developing over the next five to 10 years, specifically in these two areas of career and continuing education."

A meeting also is planned on the campus Nov. 21 for guidance counselors, school officials, ministers and others who work with young people on a counseling basis so they, too, will be consulted and made aware of the programs proposed as a result of the community leaders' recommendations, Dr. Morford said.

Kappas Making Plans For Haunted House Next Week

By Jean Hurt

The Kappa Department of the Murray Woman's Club is sponsoring its fifth "Kappa Karnival" featuring the famous "Haunted House." The Karnival and "Haunted House" will be held from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. October 28, 29, and 30 at the Calloway County Fairgrounds.

The Kappas are preparing entertainment for all ages. The ever-popular "Haunted House" will contain the following rooms: The Frozen Dead, Jaws, Funeral Parlor, Roast-Ghosties, Electric Chair, The Operating Room, and a few "surprises." The faint-hearted may choose the fish pond, dart throw, football toss, bean bag toss, apple bobbing, basketball toss and the fortune teller. The "Talking Pumpkin" will again this year amaze the younger set.

An added attraction will be an indoor plant and "Kappa Krafts" booth. Hand-made articles and home-plant cuttings will be sold. As usual, the concession stand will have homemade food and drinks.

The past four Kappa Karnival proceeds

Farm Income Here Listed At $19 Million

Compared with farmers and ranchers in many parts of the country, the Calloway County farm community made out relatively well in the past year.

Their gross receipts from the sale of crops, livestock and other commodities were at a comparatively high level, according to the final tabulations, recently released.

Credit for it is attributed to high prices obtained for most farm products rather than to increased production.

In general, throughout the country, that was the picture — reduced output that was compensated for by better prices. Crop receipts rose $8 billion in the year but livestock suffered a drop of $2 billion.

As a result, gross farm income in the United States rose above the $100 billion mark for the first time, reaching $102 billion.

The facts and figures for the local area and for other sections of the country are from a survey made by the Standard Rate and Data Service and from reports issued by the Department of Agriculture.

Total receipts in Calloway County from farm operations in the past year are listed at $19,068,000. The previous year's total was $18,364,000.

That was the gross return, before any allowances for taxes, labor costs, fuel, equipment and supplies.

It represents the overall receipts from the sale of farm products, together with government payments and the value of home-grown foods consumed on the farm.

The four per cent, compares with a rise of three per cent in the State Of Kentucky.

According to the most recent breakdown from the Department of Agriculture, approximately 50 per cent of the cash proceeds from farm marketings locally is from crops and 50 per cent from the sale of livestock, poultry and dairy goods.

Although gross income was up for most of the nation's farmers, their realized net income was not. Increased production, expenses, especially in the form of sharply higher prices for seed, feed, fuel and fertilizer, and a cutback in government payments left them with a net income of $27.2 billion, which was about $6 billion less than in 1973.

However, notes the Agriculture Department, it was the second best year on record. It topped 1972 by a wide margin.

NATIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK — This week has been proclaimed as National Business Women's Week locally by Mayor John Scott in conjunction with International Business Women's Week. With him are Mrs. Opal Roberts, local chairman, and Rubye Pool, state chairman.

'Blind Corners' In City Being Surveyed By Thetas

"Blind Corners" is a special project of the Theta Department of the Murray Woman's Club for this year with Mrs. Arlie Scott, Mrs. Gene Bailey, Mrs. A.L. Hough, Mrs. Ray Brownfield, and Miss Beth Broach as the committee coordinating the project.

Mrs. Scott said an effort is being made to get a list of "blind corners or places" in the city that are a hazard in driving in Murray. These can be obstructions due to shrubbery, trees, parked cars, signs, utility poles, etc., Mrs. Scott said.

Special boxes will be placed in the downtown locations of the Peoples Bank and Bank of Murray, Murray Federal Savings and Loan, Northside and Southside IGA Stores, and the Calloway County Public Library for persons to deposit places of any blind corners in the city.

Blanks are being distributed to students at Murray Middle School for them to take home for their families to list any places that are special hazards in driving in the city. The school bus drivers, members of the homemakers clubs, civic clubs, etc., are being contacted for information regarding any "blind corners" in the city.

Mrs. Scott said after these places have been received by the club, that they will be compiled and presented to the City Officials in an effort to help in the safety of driving in Murray. Persons unable to place their blind corner in one of the boxes or to use one of the blanks may complete the form in the Murray Ledger & Times and mail it to Box 2127, University Station, Murray, Ky.

The committee urges persons to examine their property to see if there are any obstructions that could be a hazard to drivers and to take precautions to correct the situation.

CITIZENS OF THE MONTH — Mike Farris and Becky Blackford were chosen as Citizens of the Month for October at Calloway County High School. Farris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tremor Farris, Route One Farmington. He is president of the speech team, first vice-president of the Beta Club, sports editor of the annual staff, an active member in the student council and F. B. L. A., co-hosts the Laker Hour, and assists in the broadcasting of basketball games. Miss Blackford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blackford, Route Eight. She serves as vice-president of the pep club, secretary of FHA, and is an active member of SAE, Beta Club and Student Council. She is a member of the First Methodist Church of Murray.

Shown here is one of the many "blind corners" or obstruction that can be a hazard to drivers in the city of Murray. The shrubbery on the left is at the corner of Parklane and South Sixteenth Street. The Theta Department of the Murray Woman's Club is making an effort to get a list of obstructions to drivers in the city to present to the local city officials in an effort to help for more safe driving.

Three Murray Women Attend Forum For Wholeness Held At Paducah

Three Murray women attended the "Forum for Wholeness" of the Purchase Area Church Women United in the First Christian Church in Paducah on Friday, October 17.

This was one of five "Forums for Wholeness" to be held in October in the state of Kentucky which are open to all interested women even though they may not be actively involved in Church Women United.

This program was conceived in the 1974 Ecumenical Assembly in Memphis, Tenn., and developed in May 1975 in the Washington Forums Workshop. It is to be used in 1975 and 1976, with emphasis on: Communicating our faith, Examining our lifestyle, and Providing tools for citizen action.

The theme to be used in Kentucky is "How's Your Spirit in '75?", inspired by the Bicentennial Celebration.

Mrs. John McKnight of Paducah, Purchase Area Vice-President, in presenting the outline for the forum, referred to the spirit of 1775 as "a true American spirit." "It was a dollar-and-cents revolt against an unfair economic situation," she said. "People were fed up with the Stamp Act - with the Tea Act - with all the unnecessary high prices. So, they did something about it. That was the true beginning of the American Revolution."

Rev. Herbert J. Simpson, pastor of the host church, spoke on "Communicating our Faith." He said "Jesus preached by doing as well as by talking. The test of the genuineness of a person's belief lies in his readiness to act upon it." A discussion followed his talk.

A panel of involved women spoke on "examining our life style" in the light of Christian principles in relation to hunger in America and the world, to homemaking, to politics and law, and to our faith.

Included in the panel were a professional home economist, a black woman artist-homemaker, a Latvian nurse-pharmacist former-refugee from Soviet tyranny (now actively involved in civic and political affairs in Paducah), a woman lawyer, and a woman major in the Salvation Army.

Active representatives, one the president, of the League of Women Voters spoke on "Providing the Tools for Citizen Action", and urged the listeners to use their minds, their votes, their voices, and their influence.

Following the luncheon period, Mrs. Joseph Koenig, wife of the Chaplain, Kentucky State Prison, spoke on "Prison Ministry in Kentucky" and showed slides of the Kentucky Correctional Institute for Women, Pee Wee Valley. Mrs. Herbert Simpson, president, Church Women United in Kentucky, closed the meeting with a brief and challenging talk on the theme of the day.

Hazel Woman's Club Holds Meet At United Figure Salon, Murray

The Hazel Woman's Club met Thursday, October 16, at the United Figure Salon in the Central Shopping Center, Murray.

Mrs. Jackie Butterworth, president, presided. Mrs. Gerald Gallimore gave the devotion.

Seven members made plans to attend the First District fall meeting to be held at the Murray Woman's Club House on Wednesday, October 22. Mrs. Bob Washer and Mrs. Butch Elliott were elected to be voting delegates at the district meeting.

Jackie Overton from the United Figure Salon explained to the group various exercises and exercise machines that could be used at the salon. Each member was allowed to use any of the machines following her demonstration.

The hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Dale Nance and Mrs. Garland Hutson.

Refreshments were served to the sixteen members and one guest, Mrs. James Ronald Latimer.

Other members present were Mesdames Steve Knott, Phil Liddle, Hal Miller, Max Parks, Gerald Ray, Houston Ray, Nancy Simpson, Tommy Story, and Harold Wilkinson.

MANNING GIRL
Mr. and Mrs. Michael Manning of Murray Route One are the parents of a baby girl, Amanda Lee, weighing six pounds thirteen ounces, born on Sunday, October 12, at 8:45 a.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

The father is a Masonry contractor and the mother is on leave from the Murray Division of the Tappan Company. They have another daughter, Melissa, age nine, and a son, Michael, age four.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Brent Manning, 2002 Coldwater Road, Murray, and Mr. and Mrs. William N. Murdock of Murray Route Seven. Great grandparents are Mrs. Estelle Parkhurst of Detroit, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Philip Murdock of Murray Route Seven, Mrs. Trudy Adams of Farmington, and Harley Adams of Mayfield.

FATS NEEDED
What do fats in our diets do for persons? Fats supply a large amount of energy in a small amount of food - twice as much per gram as either protein or carbohydrate. They make the meals taste better, and more satisfying. Fats also help keep skin healthy by supplying essential fatty acids. And fats promote efficiency in the use of protein and carbohydrate.

Miss Mary Lynn Wells Becomes The Bride Of Keith Ray Bersey

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ray Bersey

Miss Mary Lynn Wells, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Wells, Jr., and Keith Ray Bersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Warwick Bersey, all of McKenzie, Tenn., were married in a late summer ceremony at the First Baptist Church, McKenzie, with Rev. O. M. Dangeau, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Wells, Sr., of Murray.

Nuptial music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Alexander, vocalists, Jack Horner, organist, and Keith Lindsey, trumpeter. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander's selections included "I Have Dreamed," "Morning Has Broken," and "The Wedding Song."

Processional selections were "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring," and "Trumpets Voluntary." For the recessional Mr. Horner played "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

The wedding vows, written by the couple, were exchanged before a background of artistically arrayed jade, emerald and woodward lighted by the glow of burning candles. The center altar decoration was an arched candelabrum of gleaming candles interspersed with a sunburst arrangement of white chrysanthemums and white gladioli. Two floor baskets of white mums and gladioli arranged at a lower level completed the altar decorations.

A tiered circular candelabrum was the focal decoration in the choir and with two single candelabra adding a soft radiance over the scene. Garlands of string smilax festooned the candelabra throughout the church. A profile prie dieu with white cushions was used for the bride and groom to kneel during the wedding prayer, after which they joined in the lighting of the unity candle.

Brass hurricane pew lighters marked the family pews and lighted the aisle for the bridal processional and recessional. Each lighter was entwined with garlands of smilax caught with nosegays of blue corn flowers and baby's breath tied with white satin bows.

Bride's Dress
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an original wedding gown of ivory satin fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring a v-neckline and long bishop sleeves. The entire bodice was appliqued with motifs of exquisite alencon lace embellished with pearls. The silk circular skirt flowed out in the back into a wide chapel length train. Her waist length veil of ivory French illusion framed with lace cascades fell from a lace headpiece.

She carried a cascade bouquet designed of stephanotis centered with seed pearls, baby's breath, ivy, and phalaenopsis orchids.

Miss Carol Scott of Kennett, Mo., was the maid of honor and Mrs. Robert Highfill of McKenzie, Tenn., was matron of honor.

They wore floor length dresses of printed chiffon in shades of pink and green. The empire bodice featured a Sabrina neckline that came to a low depth in the back. The sleeveless dresses were designed with wide Birtha collars that extended over the shoulders and the a-line skirts were gathered across the back which added a fullness to the skirt. Their stylized bouquets were cascades of Sonia roses, baby's breath, and ivy tied with pink satin streamers.

Barry Clement of Cherokee, Ala., was best man and Richard Dotson of South Bend, Ind., was groomsmen. Ushers included Alan Wells of Cincinnati, Ohio, cousin of the bride, and Dr. A. L. Spivey III of McKenzie, Tenn. Scrolls were given the guests by Lisa and Chad Douglas of Frankfort, Ind., cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wells chose a full length knife-pleated gown of off white crepe with horizontal rows of green and rose flowers, fashioned with a square neckline and a matching Bertha collar that fell from the shoulders to the elbows. She wore a wrist corsage of white sweetheart roses tied with ribbons matching the flowers in her dress.

Mrs. Bersey, mother of the groom, was attired in a floor length gown of turquoise crepe, designed with a matching chiffon jacket with full sleeves that were finished with deep cuffs. She pinned a purple throated white orchid at her shoulder.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception at the church.

The reception rooms were decorated with floor baskets of white mums, gladioli, and ferns. Love birds in white wrought iron bird cages draped with string smilax caught with white satin ribbons were placed at vantage points. The tables were overlaid with white satin cloths with full lace overskirts.

A branched silver candelabrum of burning tapers surrounded by massive clusters of white grapes adorned the table where sandwiches, dips, ham biscuits, and assorted pastries were served. The cake table where the beautifully decorated three-tiered cake and punch were served, was centered with a stately arrangement of white fuji mums and baby's breath in a silver epergne. The wedding cake was adorned with spun sugar roses and topped with a nosegay of white roses and baby's breath centered with a gold Christian cross. Swags of string smilax festooned the tables.

Background music was furnished by Richard Dotson and Billy Dotson and Billy Joe King. Assisting at the reception were Mesdames Judd Stuart, Elizabeth Hatchett, Callie Dotson, Dorell Dotson, Wendell Manner, E. E. Edwards, Jr., Ben Gaines, Chandler King, J.

T. Moseley, and H. B. Scarbrough, Sr.

Miss Meridith Edwards kept the guest register and Little Miss Jennifer Highfill passed out rice bags from a blue dotted swiss draped table.

The couple left for a wedding trip with the bride wearing a casual ensemble with a matching corsage at her shoulder. They are residing at Little Rock, Ark., where the groom is a teacher at Catholic High School for Boys, and Mrs. Bersey will soon join the staff at Doctor's Hospital and will work in the department of nuclear medicine.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Harry Wright of Metropolis, Ill., and sons, Michael Wright of Louisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Monte Wright, Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Wells and son, Alan, Cincinnati, Ohio, Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Wells, Sr., Murray, Mrs. Heston Pierce, Albuquerque, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Oliver and Donna, Memphis, Tenn. Among the other guests were the family of the bride's mother and many other friends of the family from out of town.

NEATNESS COUNTS

It's an old saying but nowhere is it more applicable than here in our pharmacy. For every drug package has to be carefully marked and then stored alphabetically in its exact proper place under the right protective conditions. Our pharmacy counter is always kept antiseptically clean so that there is no chance of a drug becoming contaminated while we are filling your prescriptions.

Neatness also counts when it comes to people and that is why all of the people in our pharmacy make it an extra point to be well-groomed from their fingernails to their shoes.

Gal's Boss Barbers Holidays

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office with three other girls. (I am the only one who's Jewish.) I asked my boss if I could have one day off for the Jewish New Year since this is the holiest of all holy days for me. He said, "Yes, if you come in on Christmas to make up for it."

He's quite a kiddier, but I'm not sure he was kidding. What do you think?

ROSIE

DEAR ROSIE: He was probably kidding—unless your office is open on Christmas.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 24-year-old girl who got myself into a mess I can't get out of. My best girl friend's father (I'll call him "Pops") had a real nice car for sale. I've been out of work for a long time and I needed one, so Pops offered to sell me the car for sex. I'm not a bad girl, but I figured, for once, why not? Well, I got the car and the papers, and I gave Pops the first "installments" of sex, and now he's in love with me! (I forgot to mention, he's 52, a widower and in pretty good shape for his age.)

Pops' daughter is leaving her husband because she found out he's gay, and her father offered to let us stay at his house. We're both broke and have no place to go, but I'm afraid if I move in, it will be hard to move out. Pops has asked me to marry him, which I could never do, but I hate to hurt his feelings. Also, I don't want to spoil the relationship between him and his daughter. I could sure use some advice.

MICHIGAN MESS

DEAR MESS: Your refusal to marry "Pops" should in no way damage the relationship between him and his daughter. DON'T move into his house. He might expect you to pay off the rent the same way you're paying off the car, and you'd be there indefinitely. The advice from here is to get a respectable job, go to work and quit bartering your body.

DEAR ABBY: We own a dog that is always kept on a leash when he's put outside. Our neighbor has cats that are allowed to roam freely outside and onto our property. They tease our dog, causing him to bark until we put the cats back on their own property.

We have had anonymous phone calls informing us that our dog's barking is disturbing the entire neighborhood. Abby, if those cats didn't tantalize our dog, he wouldn't bark.

What do you suggest we do? We've complained to the cat owners, but they still turn their cats loose on our property.

FUMING

DEAR FUMING: Tell the cat owners that if their cats are found on your property, you will ring up the local pound. Then follow through. One "cat-astrophe" should do it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TEX" IN DALLAS: It's much easier to forgive an enemy after you get even with him, isn't it?

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hazel United Methodist Church Women Meet, Home Mrs. White

The Hazel United Methodist Church Women met in the home of Mrs. Bradie White on Tuesday, October 7, at seven p.m. with the president, Mrs. Olga Freeman, presiding.

Mrs. Koska Jones gave the invocation. Mrs. Eula McCullough read the minutes and Mrs. Claude White gave the financial report.

A letter from the district treasurer regarding love offerings, mission projects, and honorary membership was read, and during the business session committees were appointed to take care of the items mentioned.

A highlight of the occasion was a donation by the hostess of a beautiful quilt top which will be quilted and sold later for a financial project.

Mrs. Mildred Herning conducted a workshop program by dividing the members in groups and asking that one member be appointed to report the findings. The subject was "Mission Starts With People." Recent copies of the National Geographic were used for resource material.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1975

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

This could be an extremely telling day in your life. You should have high hopes and new incentives. Generate enthusiasm commensurate with past "best performances."

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21)

Teamwork will be important during this period, so make it a point to associate and work with those whose interests and aims are similar to your own.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You can make this a bright day by capitalizing on your outgoing and pleasing personality. Use your versatility and ingenuity in revitalizing, firming things up.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

In dealings with others, be sure to note their reactions. The right word at the right time could be a big factor in putting over ideas.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Influences fairly favorable, but don't consider all decisions made now as final. You may have to revise later in the week.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

By going along with your associates, you can further your own plans as well. As with Taurus, it's a day when teamwork will pay satisfying dividends.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

A time for evaluation, to find missing links, details hidden to the casual eye, to change a course which is leading to a dead end. And to go on from there!

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Good Mars influences favor innovations and clever strategies. A fine period in which to put over unusual ideas.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Someone may try to place a burdensome imposition on you. Reject what you consider unfair, but offer alternatives.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Mild influences indicate a so-so day unless you do something about it. But, in your search for more stimulating activities, don't go off on wild tangents.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Stumbling blocks to progress will be indecisiveness and missed opportunity. Key yourself to deliberate smartly and quickly so that you may reach proper conclusions.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Interpret carefully where you sense hidden meanings. All of them are NOT deceptive; some may simply need clarification.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with remarkable intuition, great understanding of the needs and wants of others and the skill to handle even the most complicated affairs. Your strength of purpose, objective thinking and artistry are outstanding. Faults: inordinate pride, stubbornness and bitterness in the face of opposition. Curb! TV And Youths

By MIKE BRANDON

Where did little Johnny learn those words? And where did little Johnny get the idea that everybody in the world has to drink to be socially acceptable?

If you find yourself sometimes asking those questions about your children, the best place to start is by asking yourself: Where does little Johnny spend most of his time?

If little Johnny is like most other children, he spends much of his developing years in front of the television.

Recent studies have found several very interesting facts. And more than interesting, they are disturbing.

One group of children were allowed to watch television as much as they wanted while another group watched the tube only one hour per day. Here's what happened:

Both groups were shown violent films, war movies and of course scenes like the Mai Lai Massacre in "The Trial of Billy Jack."

Those children who had spent many hours watching television were not affected by the violent scenes. But it was a different story from the other group.

On the average, the heartbeat of each child who had watched television for one hour per night went up 14 beats per minute when exposed to the violence. Blood pressures in the group also increased.

So what does all this mean? It simply means that we let our children watch television too much. They become apathetic to violence, to murder and robbery.

Slowly but surely, television is corrupting the morals of our children. And if you don't believe it, just watch little Johnny very closely, sometime.

In just about every television show, you'll see the doctor, the detective, the lawyer or whatever the show is about; pick up a drink and sip just like it's the normal thing to do.

That is why the alcoholic rate grows each year. That is why violence grows. Slowly but surely, we are becoming apathetic to everything. Doesn't anybody care any more?

130-Year-Old Lemon Tree Getting Tender, Loving Care

By M. C. Garrott

The other night I answered the phone to hear a familiar voice ask, "How would you like to see the oldest pet in Calloway County?" It was L. D. Miller, local cattleman, farmer, landlord, bridge player, golfer and executive director of the Murray Housing Authority.

At first I thought L. D. was talking about some kind of a dog, cat, horse or such animal. After all, he was the one who came up with the tip on Lucy the Goose, the 23-year-old gander I wrote about out at the Albert Enix place some weeks ago.

"What kind of a pet?" I asked, figuring he had come up with a 40-year-old horse, a 20-year-old dog or something like that.

"What have you got this time?" "This time it's a lemon tree," L. D. answered. "A 130-year-old lemon tree."

"Aw, come on, L. D. Quit pulling my leg," I replied, although I had no idea—nor do I now—how old lemon trees live to be. "I never heard of such a thing. I don't know many oaks that old. Where is this tree, anyway?"

"I've got it," L. D. said, "and it's got lemons on it—big ones—as big as grapefruit. That's what it is—a grapefruit lemon tree. I'll show it to you any time you want to see it."

I lost little time doing just that, and found the tree, looking as healthy, I suppose, as a lemon tree could at any age and lovingly protected by an 8-foot-square cyclone fence enclosure just outside of L. D.'s office at the Housing Authority.

L. D. and his men, Tommy Lavender and A. B. Tabors, take care of it like a baby. About 6½ feet tall, it is in a tub on a platform with casters so they can easily roll it indoors during the winter and out again in the spring.

We counted 19 lemons on it, several as large as three inches in diameter and which L. D. says will be ripe about Christmas time. "We get about a cup of juice from one," he said, pointing out that the lemons ripen from time to time during the year as the tree bears continuously.

Councilman Explains Change

Dear Editor:

As you recently reported in your newspaper, the Murray Common Council Committee charged with overseeing the Department of Sanitation of the city has recommended a significant change in the assessment of charges for commercial pickup within the city. In the past, a charge was levied for each business from which a pickup was made; this charge was based only on an educated guess. In the future, the charge for each business served will be as nearly the exact cost to the city for the service rendered as computation will allow. This seems to the committee to be as fair a system as can be devised. In the past, some businesses have paid more than the actual cost of their pickup, while some have paid far less.

During the past few months we have managed to cut the commercial pickup crews from three trucks and six men to two trucks and four men. This represents a significant reduction in expense: thirty-three and one third per cent. A cut-back of this magnitude required a great deal of time and effort on the part of the supervisory personnel, and represents about the best that can be done without a great deal of cooperation from the business community. We feel that further reductions in personnel and equipment are possible, but only if those businesses served cooperate in the packaging and placement of material to be collected. We have found that there is little incentive for cooperation in achieving further expense reduction when many of those served are paying less than the actual cost of the service.

It was thus decided that a time and motion study resulting in a cost-of-service value should be done, and each business charged a sum equal to what their pickup actually costs the city to provide. After institution of this new rate, if a business wishes to improve the packaging and/or placement of material to be picked up, any reduction in cost of pickup will be passed along to the business in the form of a reduced monthly service charge.

I think that most businessmen believe in the free enterprise system and believe that they should pay for what they get. The only problem is to convince them that the Sanitation Department is giving the most service possible for the money spent. A Departmental reduction in cost of 33 per cent should be an indication that we have been at least partially successful in economizing. Hopefully, most businesses will be able to cut their new rate by instituting improvements, and we will then see further increases in productivity. The Sanitation Committee asks for the cooperation and understanding of the business community as we try to put the Sanitation Department on a more business-like basis for its future operation. Comments on this matter will be much appreciated.

Sincerely,
Melvin B. Henley
Member, Murray Common Council

Desires Correspondence

Dear Editor:

I'm writing in the hope you'll be gracious enough to print my plea for correspondence.

I am a very lonely 36-year-old male caucasian, incarcerated in the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility and would appreciate hearing from those who adverse to extending their hand in a gesture

Christmas Gifts Sought

Dear Editor:

You may think that this is an early date to be thinking of Christmas, but we never have an opportunity to forget it, for our patients ask about their Christmas plans all year long. However, some of the patients are beginning to tell me about the gifts that they want Santa to bring, so I am aware that it is time for me to be sending a Christmas reminder to some of our friends in the community. I hope that you will be able to help with our Christmas plans this year. Of course, we want our patients to have a most enjoyable holiday season.

We want each ward to be "adopted" for a Christmas party during the month of December. We realize only too well that most of our church and service organizations plan extra projects for Christmas, but if your group or any other that you may know would be interested in adopting a ward, and helping us to give the patients a Merry Christmas, we would be grateful if you would contact me and discuss plans with me. Our hospital cares for patients from forty-two counties, including your county.

If your group is unable to visit the hospital at Christmas, you may supply the refreshments, and we will give the party for you. Refreshments could be sandwiches, cookies or cake, punch, fruit, candy, or anything of that kind. I notice that sandwiches and fruit are very popular. We usually have one or two diabetics on each ward. They will need diabetic cookies, candy, gum, or other unsweetened refreshments. Contributions of money are very acceptable, for these donated funds enable me to purchase some Christmas items that are especially requested. I usually have a long list of these special requests, and I make every effort to help patients receive gifts that they really want.

Many notes are slipped under my door, or placed on my desk, addressed to "Dear Santa." We also need funds for canteen books, to be used for canteen treats for patients without family or funds, throughout the year. This year we also had sufficient funds for "spending" money when we took our patients to the county fair.

We are very anxious that each of our patients shall have Santa gifts on Christmas Eve. If you can help us to accumulate enough gifts for our 400 patients, it would mean a great deal to someone who is unfortunate enough to be in a mental hospital at Christmas. Gifts should be wrapped and labeled as to content, in order that we can fit the gift to the patient. These gifts need not be expensive. The important thing is for us to be sure that no one is forgotten when Christmas comes. I would like to have these gifts in my office as early as possible during the month of December, in order that we will have time to sort them and purchase anything extra that we may need. If you send used articles or items at Christmas, please leave them unwrapped, and we will not distribute them as Christmas gifts. It is very disappointing to open a lovely package and find a used gift.

Most of our twenty-five wards have between twenty and thirty-five patients. If you need any additional information, please allow me to help with your plans. You may write or call me. My telephone number is 886-4431, Extension 366.

Let's Stay Well

Confusing An Allergy With A Cold

By F. J. L. Blassingame, M.D.

BLASSINGAME

A respiratory allergy may be confused with a cold.

The proper diagnosis is important to you and your associates. An allergy is not "catching," while a cold is quite contagious.

Hay fever, a common form of nasal allergy, gets its name from the dust in handling hay which contains substances to which a person is allergic. Sneezing, a runny nose, watering of the eyes, and a feverish feeling are the common symptoms of such an allergy.

The diagnosis can usually be made on the history of the patient. Respiratory allergies are often seasonal and may recur when a person is exposed to a particular irritant, such as feathers, horse dander, or rag-weed. If you have been exposed in the last 24 to 48 hours to a respiratory infection, and if you do not have a history of recurrent trouble, a cold becomes more likely the diagnosis. It may progress to a more toxic, feverish illness, and the nasal secretion often shows a discharge. The infection may descend into the windpipe, giving a cough and a "chest" cold.

A person with a respiratory allergy may have a history of some other forms of allergy. These may consist of skin rashes from contact with certain substances (such as wool) or digestive symptoms from particular foods (for example, shell fish or eggs). Allergic persons often have more symptoms from a cold in other words, they make a "federal" case out of an infection because the tissue reaction is greater with more fluids and swelling. Asthma may accompany exposure to a substance to which a person is sensitive or may result from a bronchial infection (asthmatic bronchitis).

About 17-million Americans suffer from allergies, and they require more careful management when these victims have colds.

Q. Mr. B.G. asks whether the itching of one of his black moles has significance.

A. Such itching may be the first sign that a black mole has become troublesome and potentially dangerous. I advise that you see a physician promptly and follow his advice, even if he suggests complete surgical removal and microscopic study of the mole.

Q. Mrs. S.C. is pregnant and wants to know if anything can be done to prevent her having another hyperactive child.

A. Inasmuch as the cause of hyperactivity is unknown, no preventive measures can be suggested. Hyperactivity may be sex-linked transmitted from mother to child, particularly to males. About eight boys are affected for every girl. I suggest that you not fret about this problem and try to live a normal life during your pregnancy.

No-Fault Divorce Law Has Little Effect

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Disgruntled married couples in search of that once-elusive "final judgement and decree" haven't exactly stamped judges' chambers since Kentucky's no fault divorce law went into effect three years ago.

As a matter of fact, the no fault law has had little, if any effect on the divorce rate in the state.

It is easier now in some cases for couples to go their separate ways, and it's cheaper too.

But still, the divorce rate is climbing at the same steady pace as it did before the no fault law went into effect on June 16, 1972.

One of the purposes of the no fault law was to "strengthen and preserve the integrity of marriage and safeguard family relationships."

Whether that goal has been accomplished is subject to debate, but the law, in addition to making it easier for some couples to separate, also has helped to drive down the costs of some divorce proceedings.

A random survey of attorneys in Frankfort indicated that it costs about $200 for couples who go to a lawyer to file no fault divorce proceedings for them.

The attorneys said that's a drop in price from a few years ago when property settlements and other arrangements had to be worked out in all divorce cases.

"There is absolutely no data on hand to indicate that the divorce rate in the state is going up because of the no fault law," said Bill Mackey, statistician in the bureau of vital statistics of the state Department for Human Resources.

In fact, Mackey said, the divorce rate is climbing at about the same speed as it did before June, 1972.

In 1967, for example, the divorce rate in Kentucky was 2.5 per 1,000 persons. It was three per 1,000 in 1968 and 1969, went up to 3.3 in 1970 and to 3.4 in 1971. In 1972 the rate was 3.6 and in 1973 it was 3.9. Last year it was 4.1.

"Obviously, you're getting a slow, steady increase," Mackey said. "But the increase after the middle of 1972, when the law went into effect, is not different from the increase before."

Sloane To Washington

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mayor Harvey Sloane has scheduled a trip to Washington Wednesday to discuss plans for a Democratic Forum convention Nov. 21-23 in Louisville.

Some 50,000 "grass roots" Democrats and party leaders are being invited to the convention, which is to consider issues facing the nation.

The forum is a private group with no official connection with the Democratic National Committee.

The no fault law, he added, "just doesn't have that much effect on the total number of divorces."

Special Meeting

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Board of Education has called a special meeting Wednesday to look into last spring's sale of political fundraising tickets in the state Education Department.

Personnel Department officials concluded after an investigation that some education officials violated the merit-system law in distribution and sale of tickets to a $10 bean supper on behalf of James B. Graham of Bowling Green, Democratic candidate for superintendent of public instruction.

The Personnel Department asked the current state superintendent, Dr. Lyman Ginger, to report what action he intended to take, and Ginger said he would take the matter to the state Board of Education, which holds its next regular meeting early in December.

The Rev. Bob W. Brown, board chairman, said Monday the board will "investigate the whole question" at the special meeting. He said all board members have been sent copies of the report on the Personnel Department probe.

Investigation Planned

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State Police say a crime laboratory report on 13 human fetuses discovered in an Eastern Kentucky cemetery is expected in about a week.

State Police Det. Everett Wilcox said Monday that the fetuses, found by a man digging a grave in an old family cemetery, probably had been there about two years.

Wilcox said the fetuses were in a gallon jar that "appears to be the type that would be used by a hospital laboratory. The possibility exists that some doctor may have collected these things and then took them out and buried them."

"This is probably a little odd way to dispose of them, but as far as I know there is no criminality involved," Wilcox said. A health official in Greenup said the fetuses probably were laboratory specimens that had been used by a physician doing research.

Retired Teacher Joins Peace Corps

MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP) — After teaching math for 34 years, Mrs. Elizabeth Mayo retired in 1973 — and promptly signed up for a 26 month hitch with the Peace Corps.

Now 72, Mrs. Mayo says she would like to visit Kenya, where she taught math and physics to students ranging in age from 16 to 20.

"But I missed my family a great deal," she said, "and I think I'll stay a little closer to home."

"I went to Africa for the adventure," she said. "I felt I could still teach and I didn't want to sit down and do nothing."

Before facing the prospect of "doing nothing," Mrs. Mayo had taught three years at the University of Alabama, 18 years at the University of Louisville and 13 years at Morehead State University.

Those who are familiar with the law can legally file their own no fault divorce proceedings. They are known as "lay divorces."

"But the requirements for the thing are such that I could hardly imagine anyone filing a complaint of that kind on his own," said Asst. Atty. Gen. Charles Runyan.

"I don't recall any expressed provisions that it has to be filed by an attorney, but there are so many complexities I can't imagine a private party filing one of those things," he said.

Confidence Game

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An 81-year-old Louisville woman has fallen prey to a roof-repair confidence game, police say.

Mrs. Bertha M. Dreher told police a man came to her home Monday and asked her if the roof needed fixing. When she told him it leaked, the man indicated he would fix it if she would get the money for him, she said.

Mrs. Dreher said the man took her to Avery Federal Savings & Loan Association, where she withdrew $900 and handed it to him. The man then walked out, she said.

AWW! COME ON — Five-year-old Tripp Nix, center left picture, of Murray wasn't as anxious to pet a horse at the Murray State University laboratory farm as he thought he was. At the left, he strains, along with classmates Brad Barger, Scott Lance and Chris Monarch, to pet the horse, but when the animal turned toward him in response, right photo, Tripp had second thoughts. The teacher is Mrs. Betty Gore, in dark glasses, and Sara Cain is a graduate assistant. The youngsters, members of the kindergarten class at the Murray State University School, were on a field trip to the farm.

Connors Happy To Be Playing In Davis Cup

By BOB MYERS
AP Sports Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — He's been tabbed the Peck's Bad Boy of tennis, a renegade, anti-establishment, and a few even less complimentary things in his relatively brief flight to fame and a lot of money.

His name is Jimmy Connors. His feud with U.S. Davis Committee officialdom has been going on for several years.

Apparently forgotten in recent history — and this may be the key to the controversy — is the fact that the former U.S.

nonplaying team captain, Dennis Ralston, rebuffed Connors' offer to help the beleaguered 1973 U.S. Davis Cup squad, which was routed by Australia in the finals, 5-0.

Connors, now just 23, refused to play Davis Cup in the Ralston regime and the U.S. lost to Colombia and Mexico. He won the grand slam championship in Australia, Wimbledon, and Forest Hills that year.

Connors also won about a million dollars in challenge matches in Las Vegas against Rod Laver and John Newcombe.

This year Tony Trabert, a five-time Davis Cup winner, was named captain. There was at the outset the same opposition talk — Connors wouldn't play for Trabert either. Connors' manager, talkative Bill Riordan, a promoter with skills reminiscent of boxing's old-timer, Tex Rickard, got into the picture. No, said Riordan, Connors wouldn't play for Trabert either.

Trabert, explaining the turnabout here in the now-concluded 5-0 U.S. victory over Venezuela in the second round 1976 zone challenge, put it simply.

"We just sat down and ironed out the problems."

Obviously the problems were ironed out well. Connors played Davis Cup for the first time. He played brilliantly to win his two singles engagements over Humphrey Hoge and Jorge Andrew, Venezuela's two top players. Neither was a close contest.

And what about the image of the Peck's Bad Boy, the anti-establishment, the renegade of the courts?

Connors couldn't have been more charming. He said time and again it was a kick to play Davis Cup. "For the first time I was not playing for Jimmy Connors. I was playing for 210 million people. I was playing for the U.S. team."

Continued Davis Cup play? "I'm for it," said Connors.

Timeout With Brandon

Sports Survey Results Interesting

The sports readership survey will not be running again so if you still have a survey lying around somewhere, just mail it in to me.

Today, I'll attempt to give some results of the survey, particularly the ones I find most interesting.

Probably the question generating most interest was the one regarding coverage of Little League baseball. The results have changed quite a bit from two weeks ago. As of now, 63 per cent feel there is not too much coverage while 27 per cent says there is and the rest are undecided.

We no longer have the Carr Ratings because they have gone out of business. However, 45 per cent would like to see ratings of some sort while 33 per cent feel the ratings are just wasted space.

As far as women's athletics, 31 per cent say very important while 56 per cent say women's sports are important but not as much as the men's sports. Only 13 per cent said women's athletics are not important at all.

When basketball season starts, I'll resume my own predictions in this column. Apparently they were somewhat popular as 64 per cent want to see the picks again while just 18 per cent don't want them.

Apparently, most people are satisfied with the "less play-by-play" stories of games. There were 58 per cent that said stories are about right while 21 per cent wanted more play-by-play and 21 per cent less play-by-play.

As far as this column, 74 per cent always read Timeout With Brandon while 17 per cent read it sometimes. Forty three per cent say Timeout is always interesting while 43 per cent say it is sometimes interesting.

In stories written by myself, 39 per cent say they are always interesting and 50 per cent say they're sometimes interesting. There were several people who proceeded to really tear me apart in the ratings but when you run a survey in the paper, you are extremely fortunate if you get more positive than negative results.

Here are a few comments from readers: "You should do more on Murray State baseball. Except for the OVC Championships, hardly nothing was known."

"Like most people, I much prefer watching the games either in person or on television. However, I read the sports section faithfully, mainly because I like to talk with my husband and grown son about sports. I am 49-years-old, a wife, a mother and a homemaker. I love sports as a spectator, not a participant. I think the sports section is just about the best part of the Ledger & Times."

"I have filled out the sports readership survey and shall declare it to be more objective than most others. When our son participated in football and track at Murray High, we felt Murray High could do no wrong. For the past 10 years or so, I began to realize the caliber of youth attending Calloway County High are no worse nor better than their local rivals."

"You are far above average in covering sports in all respects. I have not detected any personal favoritism on your part since your return from Evansville. City folks want you to favor the town of Murray and County folks want you to compliment their boys. I say you are doing very well, showing no favoritism. Your critics, both sides, exhibit bias."

My replies:

Murray State baseball gets better coverage than any sport at the university. It is the best sport, they get the best coverage. Every day last spring, there were big stories with big, bold headlines. Bring some salt and pepper and we'll look through some papers from last spring and enjoy your lunch.

The reason I write game stories like I do is because I realize most people already have seen or heard about the game. Therefore, I try to be unique and make the story as interesting or more interesting than the game.

As far as the last one goes, I appreciate very much the comments. As I've said many times, people who read the stories on Murray High-Calloway games are biased; not the person writing it. Frankly, I could care less. Sometime next month, we'll run the survey again with the results filled in. Again, thanks to everyone who has participated.

'Breds Lose Pearson

Junior southpaw Dana Pearson, who compiled a 4-1 record last spring for the Murray State Thoroughbreds, has quit school. Pearson, a flame-thrower from Cobden, Ill., was expected to be one of the mainstays of the mound corps next spring. Apparently, Pearson was offered a job back in Cobden and elected to take it rather than stay here and finish school.

Just how much his loss will affect the 'Breds remains to be seen. Murray will have a good group of hurlers back from last year's 40-9 team plus some outstanding young recruits.

Open Scrimmages

Got nothing to do Saturday night? Go on out to the Sports Arena and watch the basketball game then.

From now until the beginning of the season, the Murray State Racers will be holding intra squad games each Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend, free of charge.

"We play most of our games on Saturdays and we practice all week long. Then comes Saturday and the kids don't have any classes. Eating habits and everything changes."

"So we feel that by practicing on Saturday nights, we will help get our kids ready for the season and get them in the habit of playing on Saturdays." Racer Coach Fred Overton said.

Three teams will be working on Saturdays. One team is the upper classmen, another the scholarship freshmen and another is the walk-ons.

Overton said all fans are invited to come out and meet the players, take pictures and get autographs.

One other basketball related note: Freshman guard Dane Starbuck of Winchester, Ind., has been named as Mr. "Mini" Basketball in Indiana.

To qualify for the title, a player must be 5-10 or under. Klye Macy, who went to Purdue, was Mr. Basketball in Indiana last year. Starbuck turned down an offer from Purdue and elected to attend Murray State instead.

Simpson And Bills Are Upset 17-14 By Giants

By MARVIN R. PIKE
AP Sports Writer
BUFFALO (AP) — Steady John Leypoldt missed and unsteady George Hunt didn't.

As a result, the New York Giants upset the Buffalo Bills 17-14 in a National Football League game Monday night. The Bills were a two-touchdown favorite going into the nationally televised game.

Hunt, a four-year pro, booted a field goal from 37 yards with nine seconds left and the Bills suffered their first loss of the season after four victories.

It was the Giants' second triumph against three losses.

Buffalo's Leypoldt, who made good on his three field goal attempts in earlier games, blew a 19-yard effort with 3:16 remaining in the fourth period. The score was tied at 14-14 at the time.

Then, with 1:12 to go, Leypoldt attempted a 15-yarder. It was tipped by the Giants and the Bills were dead.

For Hunt, who went into the game with only one successful field goal in three tries and who missed two attempts against the Bills, his game-winner reminded him of his football days at the University of Tennessee.

"I kicked one with 13 seconds left against South Carolina that put us in the Sugar Bowl," Hunt said. "But this was great, coming on a Monday night and in the pros."

Pressure, as he lined up to kick?

No way, said Hunt, explaining that a miss would have sent the game into overtime.

"Knowing there would be an overtime period makes it easier on you," he said. "But at the same time you want to make it and get it over with."

Leypoldt, who also had booted 21 of 22 extra points before his miss, described his 19-yarder as "just an extra point."

"I thought it was good," Leypoldt. "It was a good center, a good hold, I just missed it. It was one of those things. All it was was an extra point, but it just happened."

Buffalo shot into a 14-0 lead, getting its first touchdown on O.J. Simpson's one-yard sprint to his right.

Then, after Buffalo's second TD on a 13-yard pass from Joe Ferguson to J. D. Hill in the second period, the Giants began to roll. Their offensive line continually beat the Bills' defensive front four and veteran quarterback Craig Morton picked the Buffalo secondary apart. An eight-play sequence ended with Morton's 20-yard scoring pass to Ray Rhodes in the end zone.

The Giants continued to stymie the Bills and in the fourth period they knotted the game when Ron Johnson, who carried 13 times for 77 yards, scored on a 13-yard run.

Simpson, who went into the game with 697 yards rushing, carried 34 times for 126 yards, his lowest in any of five games this year.

"They made some big plays but more than that we made some bad plays," Simpson said. "It sort of brings us back down to earth."

That it did. The Bills now are tied with the Miami Dolphins for the American Conference East lead with identical 4-1 records.

Buffalo entertains Miami Sunday.

Baltimore Claws Are Scrapped By League

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — American Basketball Association owners, in a move they said would bolster the sport's weakening financial status, moved to join the National Basketball Association after burying another of the economy's victims—the Baltimore Claws.

"There's no way professional basketball can survive if 25 of the 28 teams in both leagues lose substantial amounts of money every year," said John Y. Brown, president of the ABA. "We're trying to take some intelligent steps to force professional basketball into some posture of sound business and responsibility."

That theory was put into practice Monday, when owners of the seven other ABA clubs joined the New York Nets and Denver Rockets in requesting applications for membership in the NBA beginning in the 1976-77 season. New York and Denver had done so on Sept. 24.

"Merger is the wrong word," said an ABA spokesman. "We're forbidden for merging, legally, without consent of the NBA players association and the courts."

Indeed, the courts — of law, not basketball — appear to hold the key to the sport's future. Separate telegrams sent by each remaining ABA club to NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien said, in part: "If the NBA has interest in considering an application, we would like the NBA to join with us in petitioning Judge (Robert L.) Carter for permission to process an application under such circumstances as he may deem appropriate and consistent with his prior orders."

Those orders include prohibition of any merger between leagues not approved by Judge Carter and the NBA Players Association, which is involved in antitrust action to prevent such a merger. While not calling it a merger attempt, New York Nets' Owner Roy Boe made clear his feelings on the matter.

"The key to the survival of basketball is to be one league," he said. "Anybody who understands what's happening in basketball realizes the sport is in a serious position and that we need consolidation to survive."

That point probably is clearest to personnel of the Baltimore Claws, who faded into ignominy without having played a regular season game. The club's remains — the players — will be redistributed through a dispersal draft.

"The guys feel it is part of our lives that has been swooped away," said veteran center Mel Daniels of the Claws. "We tried hard to keep it together by working real hard in practice, even when we weren't getting paid."

"Believe it or not, there was still a ray of hope today," said Lou Grasmick, one of the last-minute Baltimore investors. "We had some luck raising money over the weekend, and if we had been granted another 24 hours, I think we could have raised it. We were some $200,000 short."

That shortage was enough to

Pan Am Crowds Start To Favor Americans

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Star Spangled Banner was the seventh Pan American Games' theme song today with America's saucy young swimmers threatening to double Cuba's gold medal total and the crowds cheering Uncle Sam's tune.

Six swimming finals were on the agenda tonight and if Monday night's sparkling show was any indicator, the national anthem will be played until most anti-Americans in the crowds know it by heart.

There were huzzahs and cheers for the United States track and field forces as they bagged six out of a possible eight gold medals Monday.

Hoots and jeers had haunted the team in the early going. Record-shattering performance in the pole vault, javelin throw and from two relay teams wilted the field in Mexico City's 7,340-foot altitude.

The U.S. men's 400-meter relay team sizzled to a Games record 38.31 second clocking, and anchorman Bill Collins flashed a symbolic "No. 1" sign as he sped past Cuba's Jose Triana to the tape.

American swimmers and divers won five out of six events Monday and Coach Ron Ballatore saw no reason why the trend shouldn't continue tonight in the men's 400-meter freestyle, 200-meter breaststroke, 200-meter backstroke and 200-meter butterfly and the women's 400-meter individual medley and 100-meter butterfly.

The United States went into tonight's events with a gold-silver-bronze total of 59-50-23. Cuba was second with 34-30-19 with Canada third at 14-20-24.

Three Pan Am records fell to Ballatore's team and it took a record-breaking performance by Canada's Lynn Chanard in the 100-meter breaststroke to keep the U.S. from sweeping all the gold off the boards.

Steve Furniss of Santa Ana, Calif., knocked more than two seconds off the record in the men's 400-meter individual medley with a clocking of 4:40.38 and Kim Peyton broke her own record with a time of 2:04.57 by more than five seconds in the women's 200 freestyle.

America's 400-meter men's freestyle relay team chipped in the other record.

The day began in a glitter of gold as Earl Bell, a junior from Arkansas State, vaulted 17-feet, 10 1/2 inches. It bettered the old record by almost six inches.

Sherry Calvert, a physical education teacher from Los Alamitos, Calif., hurled the javelin 179-feet, 5 1/2, beating by more than two feet the record of Cuban Tomas Nunez.

The women's 400-meter relay team anchored by Pamela Jiles of New Orleans also established a Games' mark of 42.90 seconds.

The American women's basketball team won over some of the hot-blooded Latin fans with a pressure-proof 70-64 victory over the Cubans.

Basketball aficionados were eagerly awaiting Wednesday night's battle between the U.S. and Cuban men's teams. The Americans are unbeaten while Cuba was upset by Puerto Rico. America downed Canada 84-73 in its toughest test Monday night to run its record to 6-0.

Rain Finally Ends And Series To Resume Again

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox stop fighting the rain tonight and start fighting each other again in a long-awaited sixth game of the World Series.

After three straight rainouts, all systems were "go" for the delayed contest at Fenway Park.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who called off Monday night's scheduled game because of a treacherous field, gave the green light for tonight with the optimistic assurance that "the field will be much better."

The weather was expected to be much better than it has been in recent days, too. Fenway Park, under siege by a long-winded storm since last Friday night, recuperated under the tender care of a "lawn doctor," groundskeeper Joe Mooney, and was expected to be healthy again.

Sunshine and temperatures in the 60s, the National Weather Service prediction, won't hurt Fenway, either.

"I'm edgy to play," said Boston right fielder Dwight Evans, reflecting the common feeling of ballplayers and just about everyone else.

They almost played Monday night—and would have except that Kuhn wasn't entirely happy with the conditions. He spent a long time on Fenway's outfield turf in conference with associates, including Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson and Darrell Johnson of Boston.

"The field is not suitable for a World Series game of such importance," Kuhn finally said.

Particularly bad was the right field section of Fenway Park, as Evans testified.

"It was awfully wet," the player pointed out. "Pop flies might fall in because fielders can't get to them. You might need a spoon to get the baseball out of the ground."

The white tarpaulin on the infield was sprinkled liberally with puddles, souvenirs of the long "nor'easter" that belted Boston. Although Fenway Park's drainage is reputed to be among the best in baseball, the outfield was a carpet of water. Mooney's ground crew drove an aerator over the watery outfield grass in an attempt to dry it out. Apparently they weren't very successful.

"Right field is the trouble spot," Kuhn said. "It's much worse than left or center field."

Most everyone was on the scene to get Kuhn's announcement—even the Reds. En route back to their hotel from a workout at nearby Tufts University, the players watched anxiously from the stands while their manager tip-toed through the gloomy-looking field.

The rainout tied an undistinguished Series record. In 1962, the San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees also had a game postponed three times by rain. Ironically, it was also the sixth game.

For the second straight day, Anderson took his National League champions to a gymnasium on the Tufts campus.

"We haven't lost any time the last two days since we have been able to work out," Anderson said. "We got as much work in as possible."

The continued postponement didn't change Anderson's pitching plans. He stayed with Gary Nolan as his starter in Game No. 6 and Don Gullet for the seventh game, if necessary.

Nolan will face Luis Tiant, the ace of the Boston staff who owns the only two Red Sox victories in this series so far. The Reds, holding a 3-2 edge, can finish off Boston with a victory tonight and carry home their first world championship since 1940.

The Red Sox, many of them bothered by bad colds because of the weather, hoped to stave off elimination and prolong the Series until Wednesday.

"I'm ready," announced Tiant; one of those fighting a cold.

Evans, appearing at a news conference Monday, told reporters that he was taking medication for his illness but was fit enough to play a crucial World Series game.

"I've played with sickness before," Evans said. "It's really nothing new. You have to play sick if you're a baseball player. You do the best you can. You can't call in and say, 'I won't be in today, I'm sick.' That's what I get paid for—playing."

Along with Evans and Tiant, "almost all of the team" is complaining of colds. But apparently Tiant wasn't feeling too bad since he went to a Boston Bruins hockey game Sunday night. And the others were in pretty good shape, too, because many of them worked out under the stands at Fenway Park Monday.

"We want to play badly," said Evans, one of the top performers in the Series. "We think we can take this World Series, so we'd like to get it over with."

Johnson feels the Red Sox can at least stave off defeat one more day with the commanding presence of Tiant.

"All of us feel that Tiant is at his maximum with four days rest," the Boston manager noted. "Luis now has had four days' rest and we are looking for him to be at his best."

tempt to dry it out. Apparently they weren't very successful.

"I'm ready," announced Tiant; one of those fighting a cold.

Evans, appearing at a news conference Monday, told reporters that he was taking medication for his illness but was fit enough to play a crucial World Series game.

"I've played with sickness before," Evans said. "It's really nothing new. You have to play sick if you're a baseball player. You do the best you can. You can't call in and say, 'I won't be in today, I'm sick.' That's what I get paid for—playing."

Along with Evans and Tiant, "almost all of the team" is complaining of colds. But apparently Tiant wasn't feeling too bad since he went to a Boston Bruins hockey game Sunday night. And the others were in pretty good shape, too, because many of them worked out under the stands at Fenway Park Monday.

"We want to play badly," said Evans, one of the top performers in the Series. "We think we can take this World Series, so we'd like to get it over with."

Johnson feels the Red Sox can at least stave off defeat one more day with the commanding presence of Tiant.

"All of us feel that Tiant is at his maximum with four days rest," the Boston manager noted. "Luis now has had four days' rest and we are looking for him to be at his best."

Cut Roster

HOUSTON (AP) — Two rookie forwards have been cut by the Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association.

The Rockets announced Monday that Jim Blanks of Gardner-Webb and William Johnson of Texas Tech have been put on waivers. If no other club claims them within 48 hours they become free agents.

The action left the club with a 12-man roster.

Connors Happy To Be Playing In Davis Cup

By BOB MYERS
AP Sports Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — He's been tabbed the Peck's Bad Boy of tennis, a renegade, anti-establishment, and a few even less complimentary things in his relatively brief flight to fame and a lot of money.

His name is Jimmy Connors. His feud with U.S. Davis Committee officialdom has been going on for several years.

Apparently forgotten in recent history — and this may be the key to the controversy — is the fact that the former U.S.

nonplaying team captain, Dennis Ralston, rebuffed Connor's offer to help the beleaguered 1973 U.S. Davis Cup squad, which was routed by Australia in the finals, 5-0.

Connors, now just 23, refused to play Davis Cup in the Ralston regime and the U.S. lost to Colombia and Mexico. He won the grand slam championship in Australia, Wimbledon, and Forest Hills that year.

Connors also won about a million dollars in challenge matches in Las Vegas against Rod Laver and John Newcombe.

This year Tony Trabert, a five-time Davis Cup winner, was named captain. There was at the outset the same opposition talk — Connors wouldn't play for Trabert either. Connors' manager, talkative Bill Riordan, a promoter with skills reminiscent of boxing's old-timer, Tex Rickard, got into the picture. No, said Riordan, Connors wouldn't play for Trabert either.

Trabert, explaining the turn about here in the now-concluded 5-0 U.S. victory over Venezuela in the second round 1976 zone challenge, put it simply.

"We just sat down and ironed out the problems."

Obviously the problems were ironed out well. Connors played Davis Cup for the first time. He played brilliantly to win his two singles engagements over Humphrey Hoge and Jorge Andrew, Venezuela's two top players. Neither was a close contest.

And what about the image of the Peck's Bad Boy, the anti-establishment, the renegade of the courts?

Connors couldn't have been more charming. He said time and again it was a kick to play Davis Cup. "For the first time I was not playing for Jimmy Connors. I was playing for 210 million people. I was playing for the U.S. team."

Continued Davis Cup play? "I'm for it," said Connors.

An Outstanding Moment of Our Nation's Bicentennial

Here at last is a book that gives both sides of the story of America's founding year—in hundreds of rare illustrations and exciting text.

ONLY $7.95

To be sure there's Tom Paine (corset maker as well as author)... Washington (bumbling as well as hero)... Benedict Arnold (hero as well as bumbler)... George III (without his crown on)... and many, many others.

But "76: The World Turned Upside Down" reveals those things about 1776 you never learned in school.

Deeply researched and bountifully illustrated, "76" details the great and the small, the somber and the uproarious in a way no history book ever did.

"76," in 300 excitement-packed pages, puts history into its pants one leg at a time. You'll learn what life was really like back then. In castles, in Congress, in long cabins. It's a book that separates the myth from the men, the hallowed from the hilarious.

It is available through this newspaper for only $7.95 and with it you'll receive a large, colorful wall map of colonial America.

Timeout With Brandon

By MIKE BRANDON
Sports Editor

Sports Survey Results Interesting

The sports readership survey will not be running again so if you still have a survey lying around somewhere, just mail it in to me. Today, I'll attempt to give some results of the survey, particularly the ones I find most interesting.

Probably the question generating most interest was the one regarding coverage of Little League baseball. The results have changed quite a bit from two weeks ago. As of now, 63 per cent feel there is not too much coverage while 27 per cent says there is and the rest are undecided.

We no longer have the Carr Ratings because they have gone out of business. However, 45 per cent would like to see ratings of some sort while 33 per cent feel the ratings are just wasted space.

As far as women's athletics, 31 per cent say very important while 56 per cent say women's sports are important but not as much as the men's sports. Only 13 per cent said women's athletics are not important at all.

When basketball season starts, I'll resume my own predictions in this column. Apparently they were somewhat popular as 64 per cent want to see the picks again while just 18 per cent don't want them.

Apparently, most people are satisfied with the "less play-by-play" stories of games. There were 58 per cent that said stories are about right while 21 per cent wanted more play-by-play and 21 per cent less play-by-play.

As far as this column, 74 per cent always read Timeout With Brandon while 17 per cent read it sometimes. Forty three per cent said Timeout is always interesting while 43 per cent say it is sometimes interesting.

In stories written by myself, 39 per cent say they are always interesting and 50 per cent say they're sometimes interesting. There were several people who proceeded to really tear me apart in the ratings but when you run a survey in the paper, you are extremely fortunate if you get more positive than negative results.

Here are a few comments from readers: "You should do more on Murray State baseball. Except for the OVC Championships, hardly nothing was known."

"Like most people, I much prefer watching the games either in person or on television. However, I read the sports section faithfully, mainly because I like to talk with my husband and grown son about sports. I am 49-years-old, a wife, a mother and a homemaker. I love sports as a spectator, not a participant. I think the sports section is just about the best part of the Ledger & Times."

"I have filled out the sports readership survey and shall declare it to be more objective than most others. When our son participated in football and track at Murray High, we felt Murray High could do no wrong. For the past 10 years or so, I began to realize the caliber of youth attending Calloway County High are no worse nor better than their local rivals."

"You are far above average in covering sports in all respects. I have not detected any personal favoritism on your part since your return from Evansville. City folks want you to favor the town of Murray and County folks want you to compliment their boys. I say you are doing very well, showing no favoritism. Your critics, both sides, exhibit bias."

Murray State baseball gets better coverage than any sport at the university. It is the best sport, they get the best coverage. Every day last spring, there were big stories with big, bold headlines. Bring some salt and pepper and we'll look through some papers from last spring and enjoy your lunch.

The reason I write game stories like I do is because I realize most people already have seen or heard about the game. Therefore, I try to be unique and make the story as interesting or more interesting than the game.

As far as the last one goes, I appreciate very much the comments. As I've said many times, people who read the stories on Murray High-Calloway games are biased; not the person writing it. Frankly, I could care less. Sometime next month, we'll run the survey again with the results filled in. Again, thanks to everyone who has participated.

'Breds Lose Pearson

Junior southpaw Dana Pearson, who compiled a 4-1 record last spring for the Murray State Thoroughbreds, has quit school. Pearson, a "flame-thrower" from Cobden, Ill., was expected to be one of the mainstays of the mound corps next spring. Apparently, Pearson was offered a job back in Cobden and elected to take it rather than stay here and finish school.

Just how much his loss will affect the 'Breds remains to be seen. Murray will have a good group of hurlers back from last year's 40-9 team plus some outstanding young recruits.

Open Scrimmages

Got nothing to do Saturday night? Go on out to the Sports Arena and watch the basketball game then.

From now until the beginning of the season, the Murray State Racers will be holding intra squad games each Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend, free of charge.

"We play most of our games on Saturdays and we practice all week long. Then comes Saturday and the kids don't have any classes. Eating habits and everything changes."

"So we feel that by practicing on Saturday nights, we will help get our kids ready for the season and get them in the habit of playing on Saturdays," Racer Coach Fred Overton said. Three teams will be working on Saturdays. One team is the upper classmen, another the scholarship freshmen and another is the walk-ons.

Overton said all fans are invited to come out and meet the players, take pictures and get autographs.

One other basketball related note: Freshman guard Dane Starbuck of Winchester, Ind., has been named as Mr. "Mini" Basketball in Indiana.

To qualify for the title, a player must be 5-10 or under. Klye Macy, who went to Purdue, was Mr. Basketball in Indiana last year. Starbuck turned down an offer from Purdue and elected to attend Murray State instead.

Baltimore Claws Are Scrapped By League

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — American Basketball Association owners, in a move they said would bolster the sport's weakening financial status, moved to join the National Basketball Association after burying another of the economy's victims—the Baltimore Claws.

"There's no way professional basketball can survive if 25 of the 28 teams in both leagues lose substantial amounts of money every year," said John Y. Brown, president of the ABA. "We're trying to take some intelligent steps to force professional basketball into some posture of sound business and responsibility."

That theory was put into practice Monday, when owners of the seven other ABA clubs joined the New York Nets and Denver Rockets in requesting applications for membership in the NBA beginning in the 1976-77 season. New York and Denver had done so on Sept. 24.

"Merger is the wrong word," said an ABA spokesman. "We're forbidden from merging, legally, without consent of the NBA players association and the courts."

Indeed, the courts — of law, not basketball — appear to hold the key to the sport's future. Separate telegrams sent by each remaining ABA club to NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien said, in part: "If the NBA has interest in considering an application, we would like the NBA to join with us in petitioning Judge (Robert L.) Carter for permission to process an application under such circumstances as he may deem appropriate and consistent with his prior orders."

Those orders include prohibition of any merger between leagues not approved by Judge Carter and the NBA Players Association, which is involved in antitrust action to prevent such a merger. While not calling it a merger attempt, New York Nets' Owner Roy Boe made clear his feelings on the matter.

"The key to the survival of basketball is to be one league," he said. "Anybody who understands what's happening in basketball realizes the sport is in a serious position and that we need consolidation to survive."

That point probably is clearest to personnel of the Baltimore Claws, who faded into ignominy without having played a regular season game. The club's remains — the players — will be redistributed through a dispersal draft.

"The guys feel it is part of our lives that has been swooped away," said veteran center Mel Daniels of the Claws. "We tried hard to keep it together by working real hard in practice, even when we weren't getting paid."

"Believe it or not, there was still a ray of hope today," said Lou Grasmick, one of the last-minute Baltimore investors. "We had some luck raising money over the weekend, and if we had been granted another 24 hours, I think we could have raised it. We were some $200,000 short."

That shortage was enough to prompt new ABA Commissioner Dave DeBusschere to drop the franchise. "He didn't want the league to have to step in and help the team like it did with Memphis last year," explained a spokesman.

Simpson And Bills Are Upset 17-14 By Giants

By MARVIN R. PIKE
AP Sports Writer
BUFFALO (AP) — Steady John Leypoldt missed and unsteady George Hunt didn't.

As a result, the New York Giants upset the Buffalo Bills 17-14 in a National Football League game Monday night. The Bills were a two-touchdown favorite going into the nationally televised game.

Hunt, a four-year pro, booted a field goal from 37 yards with nine seconds left and the Bills suffered their first loss of the season after four victories.

It was the Giants' second triumph against three losses.

Buffalo's Leypoldt, who made good on his three field goal attempts in earlier games, blew a 19-yard effort with 3:16 remaining in the fourth period. The score was tied at 14-14 at the time.

Then, with 1:12 to go, Leypoldt attempted a 15-yarder. It was tipped by the Giants and the Bills were dead.

For Hunt, who went into the

Coach Retires

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Forrest "Speck" Towns, track coach at the University of Georgia 34 years, announced his retirement Monday, effective Nov. 1.

Towns, 61, who underwent lung surgery in 1969, said his health was the reason for leaving the position he held from 1939-42 and again since 1946.

The native of Augusta won an Olympic gold medal in 1936 in the high hurdles and led Georgia to the Southeastern Conference track championship in 1937.

A successor has not been named.

TENNIS

HILTON HEAD, S.C. — Australian Rod Laver scored a straight-set 6-4, 6-4 triumph over Wimbledon champion Arthur Ashe in the opening match of the $135,000 World Invitational Tennis Classic.

TEHRAN — American Tim Gullickson advanced to the second round of the $100,000 Aryamehr Cup Tennis Tournament with a 6-0, 6-0 upset of Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia.

PERTH, Australia — Harold Solomon of the United States beat Russell Simpson of New Zealand 2-6, 6-2, 6-3 in a first-round match of the $46,000 Perth Indoor Tennis Tournament.

game with only one successful field goal in three tries and who missed two attempts against the Bills, his game-winner reminded him of his football days at the University of Tennessee.

"I kicked one with 13 seconds left against South Carolina that put us in the Sugar Bowl," Hunt said. "But this was great, coming on a Monday night and in the pros."

Pressure, as he lined up to kick?

No way, said Hunt, explaining that a miss would have sent the game into overtime.

"Knowing there would be an overtime period makes it easier on you," he said. "But at the same time you want to make it and get it over with."

Leypoldt, who also had booted 21 of 22 extra points before his miss, described his 19-yarder as "just an extra point."

"I thought it was good," Leypoldt. "It was a good center, a good hold, I just missed it. It was one of those things. All it was was an extra point, but it just happened."

Buffalo shot into a 14-0 lead, getting its first touchdown on O.J. Simpson's one-yard sprint to his right.

Then, after Buffalo's second TD on a 13-yard pass from Joe Ferguson to J. D. Hill in the second period, the Giants began to roll. Their offensive line continually beat the Bills' defensive front four and veteran quarterback Craig Morton picked the Buffalo secondary apart. An eight-play sequence ended with Morton's 20-yard scoring pass to Ray Rhodes in the end zone.

The Giants continued to stymie the Bills and in the fourth period they knotted the game when Ron Johnson, who carried 13 times for 77 yards, scored on a 13-yard run.

Simpson, who went into the game with 697 yards rushing, carried 34 times for 126 yards, his lowest in any of five games this year.

"They made some big plays but more than that we made some bad plays," Simpson said. "It sort of brings us back down to earth."

That it did. The Bills now are tied with the Miami Dolphins for the American Conference East lead with identical 4-1 records.

Buffalo entertains Miami Sunday.

Pan Am Crowds Start To Favor Americans

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Star Spangled Banner was the seventh Pan American Games' theme song today with America's saucy young swimmers threatening to double Cuba's gold medal total and the crowds cheering Uncle Sam's tune.

Six swimming finals were on the agenda tonight and if Monday night's sparkling show was any indicator, the national anthem will be played until most anti-Americans in the crowds know it by heart.

There were hurrahs and cheers for the United States track and field forces as they bagged six out of a possible eight gold medals Monday. Hoots and jeers had haunted the team in the early going.

Record-shattering performance in the pole vault, javelin throw and from two relay teams wilted the field in Mexico City's 7,340-foot altitude.

The U.S. men's 400-meter relay team sizzled to a Games record 38.31 second clocking, and anchorman Bill Collins flashed a symbolic "No. 1" sign as he sped past Cuba's Jose Triana to the tape.

American swimmers and divers won five out of six events Monday and Coach Ron Ballatore saw no reason why the trend shouldn't continue tonight in the men's 400-meter freestyle, 200-meter breaststroke, 200-meter backstroke and 200-meter butterfly and the women's 400-meter individual medley and 100-meter butterfly.

The United States went into tonight's events with a gold-silver-bronze total of 59-50-23. Cuba was second with 34-30-19 with Canada third at 14-20-24.

Three Pan Am records fell to Ballatore's team and it took a record-breaking performance by Canada's Lynn Chanard in the 100-meter breaststroke to keep the U.S. from sweeping all the gold off the boards.

Steve Furniss of Santa Ana, Calif., knocked more than two seconds off the record in the men's 400-meter individual medley with a clocking of 4:40.38 and Kim Peyton broke her own record with a time of 2:04.57 by more than five seconds in the women's 200 freestyle.

America's 400-meter men's freestyle relay team chipped in the other record.

The day began in a glitter of gold as Earl Bell, a junior from Arkansas State, vaulted 17-feet, 10 1/2 inches. It bettered the old record by almost six inches.

Sherry Calvert, a physical education teacher from Los Alamitos, Calif., hurled the javelin 179-feet, 5 1/2, beating by more than two feet the record of Cuban Tomasas Nunez.

The women's 400-meter relay team anchored by Pamela Jiles of New Orleans also established a Games' mark of 42.90 seconds.

The American women's basketball team won over some of the hot-blooded Latin fans with a pressure-proof 70-64 victory over the Cubans.

Basketball aficionados were eagerly awaiting Wednesday night's battle between the U.S. and Cuban men's teams. The Americans are unbeaten while Cuba was upset by Puerto Rico. America downed Canada 84-73 in its toughest test Monday night to run its record to 6-0.

Rain Finally Ends And Series To Resume Again

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox stop fighting the rain tonight and start fighting each other again in a long-awaited sixth game of the World Series.

After three straight rainouts, all systems were "go" for the delayed contest at Fenway Park.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who called off Monday night's scheduled game because of a treacherous field, gave the green light for tonight with the optimistic assurance that "the field will be much better."

The weather was expected to be much better than it has been in recent days, too. Fenway Park, under siege by a long-winded storm since last Friday night, recuperated under the tender care of a "lawn doctor," groundskeeper Joe Mooney, and was expected to be healthy again.

Sunshine and temperatures in the 60s, the National Weather Service prediction, won't hurt Fenway, either.

"I'm edgy to play," said Boston right fielder Dwight Evans, reflecting the common feeling of ballplayers and just about everyone else.

They almost played Monday night—and would have except that Kuhn wasn't entirely happy with the conditions. He spent a long time on Fenway's outfield turf in conference with associates, including Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson and Darrell Johnson of Boston.

"The field is not suitable for a World Series game of such importance," Kuhn finally said.

Particularly bad was the right field section of Fenway Park, as Evans testified.

"It was awfully wet," the player pointed out. "Pop flies might fall in because fielders can't get to them. You might need a spoon to get the baseball out of the ground."

The white tarpulin on the infield was sprinkled liberally with puddles, souvenirs of the long "nor'easter" that belted Boston. Although Fenway Park's drainage is reputed to be among the best in baseball, the outfield was a carpet of water. Mooney's ground crew drove an aerator over the watery outfield grass in an attempt to dry it out. Apparently they weren't very successful.

"Right field is the trouble spot," Kuhn said. "It's much worse than left or center field."

Most everyone was on the scene to get Kuhn's announcement—even the Reds. En route back to their hotel from a workout at nearby Tufts University, the players watched anxiously from the stands while their manager tip-toed through the gloomy-looking field.

The rainout tied an undistinguished Series record. In 1962, the San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees also had a game postponed three times by rain. Ironically, it was also the sixth game.

For the second straight day, Anderson took his National League champions to a gymnasium on the Tufts campus.

"We haven't lost any time the last two days since we have been able to work out," Anderson said. "We got as much work in as possible."

The continued postponement didn't change Anderson's pitching plans. He stayed with Gary Nolan as his starter in Game No. 6 and Don Gullet for the seventh game, if necessary.

Nolan will face Luis Tiant, the ace of the Boston staff who owns the only two Red Sox victories in this series so far. The Reds, holding a 3-2 edge, can finish off Boston with a victory tonight and carry home their first world championship since 1940.

The Red Sox, many of them bothered by bad colds because of the weather, hoped to stave off elimination and prolong the Series until Wednesday.

"I'm ready," announced Tiant, one of those fighting a cold.

Evans, appearing at a news conference Monday, told reporters that he was taking medication for his illness but was fit enough to play a crucial World Series game.

"I've played with sickness before," Evans said. "It's really nothing new. You have to play sick if you're a baseball player. You do the best you can. You can't call in and say, 'I won't be in today, I'm sick.' That's what I get paid for—playing."

Along with Evans and Tiant, "almost all of the team" is complaining of colds. But apparently Tiant wasn't feeling too bad since he went to a Boston Bruins hockey game Sunday night. And the others were in pretty good shape, too, because many of them worked out under the stands at Fenway Park Monday.

"We want to play badly," said Evans, one of the top performers in the Series. "We think we can take this World Series, so we'd like to get it over with."

Johnson feels the Red Sox can at least stave off defeat one more day with the commanding presence of Tiant.

"All of us feel that Tiant is at his maximum with four days rest," the Boston manager noted. "Luis now has had four days' rest and we are looking for him to be at his best."

Cut Roster
HOUSTON (AP) — Two rookie forwards have been cut by the Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association.

The Rockets announced Monday that Jim Blanks of Gardner-Webb and William Johnson of Texas Tech have been put on waivers. If no other club claims them within 48 hours they become free agents.

The action left the club with a 12-man roster.

BLAZE TRAIL—Members of the Twin Laker Good Sam Club blazed the new Henry-Piney Hiking Trail in the Land Between the Lakes Saturday morning. The trail is about three miles long in the Piney Area and members with one of the TVA guides marked the trail for hikers in the Piney area. The club held its monthly campout at Piney and were guests of the First United Methodist Church for the Sunday morning worship services of the family church outing conducted by Rev. Fred Morton. Good Sam families at Piney were those of Nix Crawford, Jimmy Herndon, Ned Wilson, C. W. Jones, John Bowker, Harold Eversmeyer, Jimmy Graham, J. B. Burkeen, Dennis Burkeen, Eugene Schanbacher, and Fred Morton. Other families there with the church group included Hampton Erwin, John Thompson, Joe Keeslar, Alton Swift, and Sid Easley. Members are pictured here at the campsite of the wagonmaster.

State To Have Larger Burley Crop For This Season

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — With more people growing burley tobacco, Kentucky will have a larger crop to sell this fall despite wide spread damage from a fungus disease, tobacco experts predict.

Representatives of the Burley Farmers Advisory Council were told at their quarterly meeting Monday that Kentucky's burley crop will reach nearly 442 pounds this year — up 12 million pounds from last season.

One reason: the recession, which caused many employees laid off or on strike to return to their fields to grow tobacco.

The production increase puts more responsibility on each farmer, said Paul Donovan of the U.S. Tobacco Inspection Service.

When burley was short, Donovan said, buyers were willing to pay top price even for burlies containing inferior grades.

Now, he said, "we might not get top price for wet and dirty tobacco like last year."

"Take a little more pain in preparing your crop this year," he advised.

Joe Smiley, a University of Kentucky agronomy professor, said the fungus disease known as black shank affected 25 to 30 per cent more tobacco this year than last, because of sparse plant beds, increased irrigation and high winds which spread the fungus.

Smiley estimated that the fungus disease would cost Kentucky burley growers $8 million to $12 million this year.

Committee Evidence Indicates CIA Read Sen. Church Letters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA opened and read at least three and perhaps eight letters written by Sen. Frank Church during and after a 1971 trip to the Soviet Union, according to evidence obtained by the Senate intelligence committee.

Church, chairman of the Senate panel, confirmed in a telephone interview Monday that copies of two letters he had written to the Soviet Union "thanking our hosts for their courtesies" had been found in CIA files. Church, an Idaho Democrat, authorized release of the two letters to The Associated Press.

The Senate panel today begins three days of hearings into CIA and FBI mail-opening programs. CIA Director William E. Colby has criticized the hearings as a "fifth rerun of the great mail-reading story."

A committee source said that in addition to the two letters found in CIA files, committee investigators also had discovered agency records of five other letters Church wrote to the Soviet Union at about the same time. However, the source it was not clear whether those five letters actually had been opened by the CIA or whether the information on the outside of the envelope merely had been copied in accordance with legal mail cover procedures.

Last month, Church revealed that the CIA opened a letter he had written to his mother-in-law during the same trip to the Soviet Union. Church said Monday that the committee had learned about the letter from a CIA official involved in the mail-opening program but "evidently it was destroyed" by the CIA since investigators are unable to find a copy of it in agency files. This would bring to eight the number of Church letters handled by the agency.

The letters were written following Church's return from the Dartmouth Conference in Kiev during July. Other participants in the exchange program with prominent Russians included Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., retired Lt. Gen. James Gavin, former ambassador to France; Charles Yost, former U.S. representative at the United Nations; and Patricia Harris, former ambassador to Luxembourg, according to a spokesman for the Charles F. Kettering Foundation, the principal sponsor of the conference.

There was no indication that the CIA also had opened their letters.

In a speech to a Navy League dinner Monday night in New York, Colby voiced his sharpest criticism yet of the congressional investigations of the CIA and suggested that they were staging "successive, sensational reruns for the amusement, or even amazement, of our people."

He referred specifically to today's Senate hearings, calling them "our fifth rerun of the great mail-reading story." Colby said he had first revealed the existence of the CIA's mail-opening program and that it had been investigated by the Rockefeller Commission and two House committees.

Businessman's Corner LET'S TALK ABOUT NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

This series of columns is prepared by the advertising staff of The Murray Ledger & Times. Left to right are Barbara Alexander, advertising manager; and Frank Gonzales and Debra Miller, sales people. Contact any one of them at 753-1919 for assistance with your advertising program.

IS NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING A GOOD "SHOT-IN-THE-ARM?"

Surprisingly there are many businessmen who advertise only once in a while, usually only when business begins to slow down to the point where they are forced to become alarmed. To alleviate their distress these fellows hastily write a big advertisement, rush down to their local newspaper office and place it for the next edition. Then, they return to their place of business, sweep the floors, wash the windows, dust the stock, and generally get ready to greet the droves of people they expect will respond immediately, when the paper hits the street.

What usually happens? If this type of businessman has taken the time and put forth the necessary effort to write a very attractive ad, and if that ad appears in the newspaper at a time when the local readers are ready for his offer, and if the weather is good and the publication comes out near a large local payday, he'll probably get some appreciable results from his ad, though it will be short-lived in most cases.

Then what happens? Mr. Once-In-A-While Advertiser, when asked what results he got from his ad will probably say, "Oh I got some people in, and even sold quite a bit of merchandise, but the extra customer flow didn't last long — advertising just doesn't seem to work for me." Then, before anyone can tell him what he is doing wrong, he quickly reverts to his old I'll-be-damned-if-I'll-advertise-regularly attitude. What is he really doing? He's cutting off his nose to get even with his fate!

When you're sick in bed with a condition serious enough to call the doctor, when the doctor prescribes four pills a day until you are well, would you take ONE pill, throw the rest away, and sit back and wait for results? If your sewer was clogged and the plumber said that it needs to have a complete root-reaming job, would you say, "That's o.k., Mr. Plumber, I'll just use a bottle of this liquid drain opener and see if that doesn't suffice?"

And when your auto mechanic tells you your car needs a complete overhaul, do you tell him to just fix the dangling tailpipe? Most business people wouldn't do any of these foolish things, but some would turn right around and cut out all newspaper advertising because a few ads didn't bring people in for 90 days after they ran in the paper, while being fully aware of the fact that "sick business" demands much more than once-in-a-while advertising.

Seemingly some businessmen are out to prove to themselves, their newspaper representative, perhaps even their wives, that they do not need regular, consistent newspaper advertising, because their businesses are so well known in the community. This kind of thinking is plain and simple balderdash!

While newspaper advertising may very well give your business a "shot-in-the-arm" on a one time ad, you can bet your bottom dollar you are depriving yourself of a constant flow of customers, in sufficient numbers to make your business quite healthy, by approaching advertising in your newspaper on that basis.

NEXT WEEK: ADVANTAGES OF ADVERTISING IN YOUR LOCAL PAPER

Official Advocates Mandatory Conservation

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The president of the Kentucky Association of Electric Cooperatives has advocated a mandatory conservation program of energy for this country.

"We've got to begin to shift our energy base — and this is not easy," Louis Strong told a special commission studying electric rates and regulations.

He said a mandatory conservation program, particularly with respect to oil, accompanied by research and development, would help solve the energy crisis.

Strong said a voluntary conservation program wouldn't work because it would be like "trying to dam up the Ohio River with a scoop shovel." Alex Radin, president of the Washington-based American Power Association, told the commission that utility companies should not be held responsible for providing cheap electricity to poor people.

He said rates should be based on costs and that any "deviation from this principle would be a dangerous policy for a utility to pursue."

Radin said the association is sympathetic to the plight of low income consumers who have been hit with steadily rising prices in the cost of services and goods. But he said social agencies are responsible for determining who needs help and helping them, not utilities.

Veterans Counselor To Be Here Thursday

Max Miller, a Veterans Counselor of the Department for Human Resources, Kentucky Center for Veterans Affairs, will be at the American Legion Home, South Sixth and Maple Streets, Murray, on Thursday, October 23.

Miller will assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military services during the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Attempted Burglary Stirs Memories Of Watergate Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discovery of an attempted burglary at the offices of President Ford's campaign committee stirred memories of Watergate, but officials quickly discounted any comparisons.

Lester R. Benjamin, accountant for the President Ford Committee, reported finding two jimmy-bar marks on a file cabinet when he unlocked it Monday morning. But whoever tried to pry the cabinet open was unsuccessful and nothing was taken, he said.

The heavy-duty cabinet contained checks, cash and financial records but no political documents, according to Benjamin and Robert Visser, general counsel for the committee. "We can't presume the burglar had any political motivations," Visser said. "There is no indication that this was any kind of a political attempt to do anything."

Visser said police concurred. Nevertheless, the attempted break-in evoked memories of the burglary of the Democratic National Committee offices at the Watergate complex on June 17, 1972 — an event which ultimately led to the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon.

Five men were arrested in the Watergate burglary, which proved to have been planned by officials of the Committee to Re-Elect the President. In addition to attempting to photograph political records, their mission was to remove listening devices previously implanted in telephones.

By contrast to the nighttime Watergate burglary, Visser theorized that the attempt to open the file cabinet at the Ford committee offices in a downtown Washington office building could have occurred during the daytime when staff members and some workmen were in the offices.

He said the committee is on a seven-day week and six to 15 staff members worked both days of the weekend. Several workmen also were in the offices, which are undergoing a major revamping that includes the moving of walls and relocation of electrical and telephone outlets. There was no sign of forced entry on the office doors or any other cabinets, including those which contain political records, Visser said. He said the locked cabinet is the only one of its kind in the offices.

Visser said the committee's security precautions were under review at the time of the incident and that proposals for changes are expected soon from the firm handling security for the building's owners.
